TAFT TOUCHES KEY--EXPOSITION IS OPENED TENNEY GIVES FACTS AND FIGURES

MR. TENNEY DEMONSTRATES DECREASE IN NUMBER OF $18-A-MONTH MEN ON PLANTATION

Kahuku Men Discharged And All Is Quiet In Strikedom

The fifty Japanese discharged by Kahuku plantation will be paid off today and leave the premises. The other Japanese of the plantation have decided that they will not leave out of sympathy for those men although they threatened to do so at one time. There is a general feeling that these workers left to themselves would gladly return to work.

On other plantations of this island the strike conditions remain about the same. At Waiakua, the Kawaiia men will unquestionably be given ample protection from the Thug element when they return to work.

Ewa plantation is running with six hundred and fifty strike breakers added to its force of regular men other than Japanese. Oahu plantation continues to harvest and grind its cane. Honolulu is running along well and is now handling its cane with men from among the regular plantation force.

Manager Meyer of Waiakua was in town today and reports everything on his plantation running without the suggestion of a change from usual conditions. Nothing on his plantation suggests that there ever was or ever will be a strike there or anywhere else.

1800 Men Wanted.
As the forces on the plantations are being organized more opportunity offers for strike breakers. The Planters' Labor Bureau reports that it can take eighteen hundred men each day at $1.50. Some of the men from the outlying sections find it impossible to get to the early train on account of the hour at which the Rapid Transit starts. It is planned to run special cars for them if it can be arranged.

Attacking Consul.
The latest phase of the agitator campaign is to attack the Japanese Consul. Thus far they have called him nothing more than incompetent because he has taken a stand for law and order.

Agitators Hopeful.
The leaders of the high-wage association are still hopeful of their success in the end. They claim that they can keep up the fight between capital and labor indefinitely.

"Boss" Makino, who always says things in his own favor, states that a strike proclamation will be issued in a few days. He says that means two

$18 Man Is Fading

Mr. E. D. Tenney President of the Ewa Plantation Company, made the following statement today:
The system of contracts, which is gradually but surely superseding day labor and the resulting effect upon the earnings of our Japanese laborers, is illustrated very nicely by a comparison of the April Labor Statement of Ewa Plantation for the past three years.
The number employed at the $18.00 wage rate was in the month of

Month	1907	1908	1909
April	858 men	553 men	291 men

a decrease in two years of 567 men. The average wages earned per month of 26 days by all Japanese men, women and children employed on the plantation were, in an increase in two years in the average monthly earnings of $4.85. At his rate of progression, in a comparatively short time, the able-bodied, ambitious day laborer will be a thing of the past. Today the ranks of this class are largely made up of transients or inefficient men, who really earn far less than they are paid.

Month	1907	1908	1909
April	$18.31	$21.01	$23.16

ITO WILL FURTHER POLICY OF PEACE

Prof. Swift of Tokio University Talks of Japan

"Prince Ito, president of the Imperial Advisory Board, who succeeded Prince Yamagata, will further emphasize the peace policy in Japan. Prince Yamagata will look after the military side of the Empire."

Prof. J. L. Swift of the Tokio Imperial University, who arrived this morning in the steamship China from Japan, is the authority for the above statement. He said that no Japanese government was always looking for peace and on that account Prince to was once more asked by the Emperor to accept the Presidency of the Imperial Advisory Board.

Prince Yamagata, probably the most efficient general in the Empire, is the brains of the Japanese Army. He will have the supreme management of the Imperial army, while Prince Ito, the greatest statesman of Japan, and one of the most notable statesmen in the world today, will look after the affairs of the State. Without his approval, nothing can be done by the government. These two well known leaders of Japan will certainly further emphasize the peace policy.

Prof. Swift is well known in Japan, having lived there for the last twenty years. He, accompanied by his son, is taking a number of young men to the colleges in the United States. Among the young men is Mr. Mitsui, son of the well known Mitsui family of Japan.

CAMPBELL LEAVES FOR EUROPE TODAY

A. J. Campbell, special agent of the Board of Immigration, will sail tonight on the China for the mainland, en route for Europe.

Campbell goes to arrange for the coming of immigrants. His first objective point is the Azores. From there he will be guided in his course much by conditions as he finds them.

The Board of Immigration has handicapped Campbell with but few instructions. He has been directed to take special care not to make any statements to prospective immigrants which may be construed later as misrepresentations, but otherwise he has been left with practically a free hand.

A. Y. P. FAIR OPEN

SEATTLE, Wash., June 1.—The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition was formally opened today with elaborate ceremony and a tremendous crowd of Washington people, with a great number of excursionists from all over the country, was in attendance.

The fair was opened at the noon hour, President Taft touching the gold telegraph key by which the electrical sparks that threw the gates wide was transmitted. Admiral Ijichi and Admiral Sebe were the special guests of the occasion, and J. J. Hill, head of the great Hill railway system, delivered the principal address. Salutes were fired by the Japanese and American warships in the harbor.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 30.—On Tuesday, thirty minutes after the stroke of noon, President William H. Taft, in the White House at Washington, will press a jeweled telegrapher's key and flash to Seattle the message that will open to the world the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition.

The exposition is ready, and Seattle awaits the signal, for the northwestern metropolis has made good. For the first time in the history of the world's fairs there will be presented a finished exposition on the day announced. The music, speech-making, the big festivities which the northwest has planned for the opening day will not be punctuated with the rap of the hammer or marred by the voice of the tuncful saw.

Seattle is filled almost to the point of overflow with sightseers awaiting the initial event. By far the larger part of the crowd has gathered from Washington and the neighboring states, but there are thousands of tourists from the Atlantic seaboard and the middle east who have been attracted not only from their homes but from the various points of interest in California and Canada.

The city itself is dressed for the carnival as never before. The canyon streets are festooned with electric lights and everywhere there is bunting, picked out with the exposition emblem. Even the boats in the harbor are decked out in the exposition colors and the Japanese and American fleets are keeping open house to all visitors.

Now that the exposition is spread and Seattle has had a chance to look it over, it is realized for the first time just how big a show it is. There have been some large sounding claims made for it in advance and a good bit of boasting that may have sounded fulsome, but it is a fact that there is everything here that

FIFTH CAVALRY ON PRACTICE MARCH

Six Troops Are Making Round of This Island

Six troops of the Fifth Cavalry, stationed at Schofield Barracks, are making a practice march today. Supplied with a full day's rations, and equipped with full service kit, the six hundred troopers left their quarters at Lihue this morning for a day in the open.

That a more complete idea may be had of the topography of this island from a military standpoint, the command has been divided into three columns, each of which will march in a different direction.

The following order was published at Schofield Barracks yesterday: Schofield Barracks, Honolulu, H. T., May 31, 1909.

General Orders No. 7.
1. Tomorrow, June 1st, the troops, with the exception of the old and new guard, will make a one day practice march in three columns.

Equipment: All arms, saddles, packed, one cooked meal in saddle pockets.

Uniform: For officers, khaki; for enlisted men, khaki breeches, olive drab shirts; campaign hats for all.

Time of March: 7:30 a. m.
The first column, consisting of Troops D and L, under command of Captain Jenkins, will proceed to the west over the Kolekole Pass to the sea shore on the Waianae side.

The second column, consisting of Troops K and C, under command of Captain Willard, will proceed to the south to Waipahu on the north side of Pearl Harbor and return by any roads found along the east foot of the Waianae mountains.

The third column, consisting of Troops M and B, under command of Captain Seales, will proceed by Government Road to the seashore on the north side in the direction of Waipua.

Commanding officers will exercise particular care to avoid trespass or damage to private property. They will observe and report upon the character of the roads, the existence of possible camping places with special reference to water, grass and fuel, and the accessibility of the beaches.

By order of Colonel Schuyler:
E. A. STURGES,
Captain and Adjutant 5th Cavalry.

CANNED PINES HIT BY SENATE

"Senate voted canned pineapple duty twenty-five per cent subject to limit twenty-five per cent sugar content. Fresh pine postponed."

This is the text of a cablegram received this morning from G. H. McClellan by the pineapple interests of the city. It means that the duty on canned pines as it passed the House favorably to Hawaii's interests, is defeated. But there is some gain over present conditions. The future hope of Hawaii is in the Conference Committee.

The Senate bill means a duty of twenty-five per cent ad valorem on canned pineapples with twenty-five per cent of sugar in the preserving juice. Under the present law there

WAIALAE WILL HAVE CEMETERY

50-Acre Tract Secured By Newly-Formed Association

The Real Estate Exchange of this city are preparing the organization of the Waiakua Cemetery Association to take over the fifty-acre cemetery site at Waiakua recommended a few years ago by the Board of Health as suitable in every respect for cemetery purposes. The Association will be incorporated for $50,000, divided into 50,000 shares at a par value of one dollar each, fully paid, non-assessable, and non-dividend paying.

The stock will be sold in connection with the burial rites. The plans of the Association will be patterned after one of the largest cemetery societies in the United States. A crematory and mortuary chapel will be erected. Driveways, arches, walks, fountains and lawns will be artistically arranged by an expert from the mainland to make the site one of Honolulu's garden spots.

When called upon by the reporter, A. V. Gear, secretary of the Real Estate Exchange, had the following to say: "Everybody knows that Honolulu is in need of a large, modern cemetery within a convenient distance from the city, and the object of the Waiakua Cemetery Association is to supply all classes of people, rich and poor alike, at moderate prices with the very best cemetery accommodations for all time to come. All the profits to be derived from burial rites and otherwise are to be retained by the Association and properly invested to provide an income for the upkeep of the grounds, and thereby exempting the burial rites owners and stockholders from any dues or assessments. The property is larger than the combined area of all the burial grounds in the city and with its excellent soil and beautiful location, the association will establish a cemetery that the city of Honolulu will be proud of."

CHILDS ENDS LIFE WITH REVOLVER

Carpenter Blows Off Top Of Head With Gun

Frank M. Childs committed suicide last night in his room at the Ching Wo block, Liliha street. The deceased was about 55 or 60 years of age, and was a carpenter by trade. He had lately been employed on the building of the Empire Theater and was considered an expert man at his work.

Last night between 10 and 11 o'clock a muffled report was heard by the people who room next to Childs, but no notice was taken, as the noise was thought to have been caused by a firecracker.

However, as the old man did not put in an appearance at work this morning, and was not to be seen about the place, his room was opened and he was found fully dressed lying on a cot. A revolver was clutched in his right hand and a handkerchief was tied around the muzzle of the weapon. The handkerchief acted as a muffer and made the report of the gun sound faint.

The deceased had evidently placed the revolver to his mouth and pulled the trigger. The top of his head was nearly blown off, and death must have been instantaneous. Childs has been in bad health lately and suffered a lot from stomach trouble. He is said to have been despondent and is alleged to have made a statement to the effect that at one time he had been confined to an insane asylum on the coast. He had received an injury to his head which had made him suffer from delusions.

Deputy Sheriff Rose has arranged for an inquest to be held this evening at the Police Station.
